DISCUSS PLANS FOR MILITARY COMPANY

Meeting In Interest of Organizing New Company

NEED COMPANY HERE

Men Who Served Overseas Will be Invited to Next Meeting—100 Men Necessary to Organize.

After debating the subject of organizing it was decided to hold a meeting in the near future when the men who served overseas will be invited to be present and complete plans for organizing a company.

Since the Alexandria Light Infantry was sent away this city has been without a military company and Col. Jo. Lane Stern, adjutant general of Virginia, has sent an official communication to Capt. T. B. Cochran, asking that a military company be organized here.

The letter follows:

From The Adjutant General of Virginia.

To Captain Thomas Cochran, Alexandria, Va.

Subject Organization National Guard.

1.—As a result of signing of the Peace Treaty, the State will be required to form and equip companies of the National Guard before the Treaty becomes effective, which, it is understood ,will be ninety days from date of signature, or date of approval by Congress. Inquiry is therefore made of you as to the probability of organizing a company of Infantry of the Virginia National Guard in your place, within that time.

2.—Under the present regulations, it is necessary for the Company to have 100 enlisted men, but the War Department authorizes the maintenance of one platoon, with company headquarters at one place, and another ,or second platoon, under command of one or two officers, at some nearby place, provided, of course, proper armory facilities are secured at each place.

3.—It is requested you advise me at the earliest practicable date if it is possible to organize a company of the National Guard at your place, and recommend to this office the names of some eligible men who would be willing to undertake organization of the Company.

4.—The War Department furnishes all arms, uniform clothing and field equipment ;transports, subsists and pays troops for encampment, and also pays for armory drills requiring only that the community where the organization is located furnish a suitable armory.

5.—If a favorable reply is received from you, a more detailed statement of requirements will be sent.

Danville Judge Bases His Decision on Fact That Government Controls Wire

Danville, Va., July 10.—In a decision rendered yesterday by Judge E. Walton Brown no person can sue the telegraph companies of America, no matter what alleged wrongful act is committed, as no individual can sue the government. The decision was rendered in the case of T. M. Milstead against the Western Union for $100, the plaintiff contending that the failure of the company to deliver promptly a telegram caused him anxiety.

The court held when the government took over the wires no provision was made for the institution of suits against individuals, as is the case of the Fedarl railways, suits against which are brought against Walker D. Hines.

THAW HELD AS LUNATIC

Slayer of Stanford White is Now Committed to Kirkbride Asylum, Pennsylvania

Harrisburg, Pa., July 10.—Harry K. Thaw is a lunatic without lucid intervals. He has been so adjudged by a Pennsylvania court and committed to Kirkbride's asylum. The Governor of Pennsylvania is not bound to honor a requisition from the Governor of the State of New York for Thaw's extradition in the face of the judicial proceedings that place his status. The only recourse the State of New oYrk has is to get permission from that court for his removal.

That sums up Attorney General William I. Schafer's opinion on the matter of Thaw's extradition to New York to face the indictment held against him in a New York court charging criminal assault against Herbert Gump, of Kansas City, committed in the Hotel McAlpin, New York. It was made at a hearing granted to Robert S. Johnstone and Edward P. Kilroe, assistant district attorneys of New York by the Attorney General, who acted on behalf of the Governor, Judge James Gay Gordon, counsel for Mrs. Mary C. Thaw, appeared in opposition to the New York man.

WILSON APPEARS BEFORE SENATE

IS AMERICA'S CHANCE

Urges Logical Reasons For League of Nations—Part Played by the United States During the Past Six Months

President Wilson addressed the United States Senate today, presenting the treaty of peace with Germany, including the covenant of the league of nations. He also discoursed upon the process and completion of negotiations for the conclusion of peace. Among other things he said:

"The United States entered the war upon a different footing from every other nation except our associates on this side of the sea. We entered it not because our material interests were directly threatened or because any special treaty obligations to which we were parties had been violated, but only because we saw the supremacy, and even the validity, of right everywhere put in jeopardy and free government likely to be everywhere imperiled by the intolerable aggression of a power which respected neither right nor obligation and whose very system of government flouted the rights of the citizen as against the autocratic authority of his governors. And in the settlements of the peace we have sought no special reparation for ourselves but only the restoration of right and the assurance of liberty everywhere that the effects of the settlement were to be felt. We entered the war as the disinterested champions of right and we interested ourselves in the terms of the peace in no other capacity.

"The hopes of the nations allied against the central powers were at a very low ebb when our soldiers began to pour across the sea. There was everywhere among them, except in their stoutest spirits, a somber foreboding of disaster. The war ended in November, eight months ago but you have only to recall what was feared in midsummer last, four short months before the armistice, to realize what it was that our timely aid accomplished alike for their morale and their physical safety.

"Old entanglements of every kind stood in the way—promises which governments had made to one another in the days when might and right were confused and the power of the victor was without restraint. Engagements which contemplated any dispositions of territory, any extensions of sovereignty that might seem to be to the interest of those who had the power to insist upon them, had been entered into without thought of what the peoples concerned might wish or profit by; and these could not always be honorably brushed aside. It was not easy to graft the new order of ideas on the old, and some of the fruits of the grafting may, I fear, for a time be bitter. But with very few exceptions, the men who sat with us at the peace table desired as sincerely as we did to get away from the bad influences, the illegitimate purposes, the demoralizing ambitions, the international counsels an dexpedients out of which the sinister designs of Germany had sprung as a natural growth.

"It had been our privilege to formulate the principles which we accepted as the basis of the peace, but they had been accepted, not because we had come in to hasten and assure the victory and insisted upon them, but because they were readily acceded to as the principles to which honorable and enlightened minds everywhere had been bred.

"The atmosphere in which the conference worked seemed created, not by the ambitions of strong governments, but by the hopes and aspirations of small nations and of peoples hitherto under bondage to the power that victory had shattered and destroyed. Two great empires had been forced into political bankruptcy, and we were the receivers. Our task was not only to make peace with the central empires and remedy the wrongs their armies had done.

"In all quarters of the world old established relationships had been disturbed or broken and affairs weer at loose ends, needing to be mended or united again, but could not be made what they were before. They had to be set right by applying some uniform principle of justice or enlightened expediency. And they could not be adjusted by merely prescribing in a treaty what should be done. New states were to be set up which could not hope to live through their first period of weakness without assured support by the great nations that had consented to their creation and won for them their independence.

That there should be a league of nations to steady the counsels and maintain the peaceful understandings of the world, to make not treaties alone, but the accepted principles of international law as well, the actual rule of conduct among the governments of the world, had been one of the agreements accepted from the first as the basis of peace with the central powers. The statesmen of all the belligerent countries were agreed that such a eague must be created to sustain the settlements that were to be effected.

The conference was, after all, not to be ephemeral. The concert of nations was to continue, under a definite covenant which had been agreed upon and which all were convinced was workable. They could go forward, with confidence to make arrangements, intended to be permanent and almost practical.

A cry had gone out from every home in every stricken land from which sons and brothers and fathers had gone forth to the great sacrifice that such a sacrifie should never again be exacted. It was manifest why it had been exacted. It had been exacted because one nation desired dominion and other nations had known no means of defense except armaments and alliances.

The league of nations was not merely an instrument to adjust and remedy old wrongs under a new treaty of peace; it was the only hope for mankind.

It was seen as the main object of the peace, as the only thing that could complete it or make it worth while. They saw it as the hope of the world, and that hope they did not dare to disappoint. Shall we or any other free people hesitate to accept this great duty? Dare we reject it and break the heart of the world?

"It was universally recognized that America had entered the war to promote no private or peculiar interest of her own, but only as the champion of rights which she was glad to share with free men and lovers of justice everywhere. They know that there is no ground for fear in receiving us as their mentors and guides. Our isolation was ended twenty years ago; and now fear of us is ended also.

Our counsel and association is sought after and desired. There can be no question of our ceasing to be a world power. The only question is whether we can refuse the moral leadership that is offered us, whether we shall accept or reject the confidence of the world.

"The stage is set, the destiny disclosed. It has come about by no hand of God who led us into this way. We cannot tuurn back. We can only go forward, with lifted eyes nad freshened spirit, to follow the vision. It was of this that we dreamed at our birth. America shall in truth show the way The light sreams upon the path ahead, and nowhere else.

SUICIDE EPIDEMIC

Geneva, July 10.—Suicides among the German officers are increasing alarmingly, especially in Prussia, where the number of suicides is 38 per cent more than before it became known that former Emperor William was to be placed on trial by the Allies, according to Munich newspapers.

The wives of officers are also reported to be taking their own lives. The increase in the number of suicides is attributed not only to patriotic despair but of the loss of the officers' past social position.

In compliance with a request made by the Merchants' Association, we will close every Wednesday at 12 o'clock during July and August.

HUNS RATIFY PEACE TREATY

Now Wait Patiently For Approval by the Allies

VOTE STOOD 208 TO 115

Yearns For Removal of Blockade—Bill of Ratification One of the Briefest of Kind in History

Weimar, July 10.—By a majority of ninety-three votes, the German National Assembly here ratified the treaty of peace yesterday without reservations. The vote was 208 to 115 nconditional acceptance of the treaty was voted on June 22, the majority being ninety-nine. The vote on that occasion stood 27 to 138. Fifty-two additional votes were, therefore, cast at the ratification session. The figures show that no material change in the sentiment of the assembly has taken place since the signing.

Immediately upon ratification. President Ebert informed President Clemenceu of the Peace Conference by telegraph of the result of the session.

Germany now waits—and waits impatiently—for ratificaion by the allies. The howl of protest against the terms has died down, and the people of the Fatherland are fast settling down to the hard task of fulfilling them.

Dr. Matthias Erzberger, vice premier and minister of finance, sounded the keynote of Germany's peace task by announcing his firm resolve "to tread the hard path of economy." Throughout his speech he emphasized the imperative necessity of getting back to a peace basis as quickly as possible, to "work, work, work," toward payment of the reparations, and to that end eliminate every pfenning of unnecessary national and individual expenditure.

But even more than for ratification of the peace by three allied powers—which will make peace an actual fact,—Germany yearns for word from Paris that the blockade is lifted, and with it the censorship of her mails and cables. The government confidently expects this notification to reach Weimar within the next 48 hours.

The bill ratifying the peace treaty is the briefest document of its kind in history. It reads:

"Article 1.—The peace treaty between Germany and the allied and associated powers signed on June 28, and the portocol belonging thereto as well as the agreement concerning the military occupation of the Rhineland, are hereby approved.

"Article 2.—This law becomes effective on the date of publication."

British Dirigible Leaves for Scotland Shortly After Midnight

Favorable weather condtions were reported over the entire route save for one bad spot in midatlantic.

The big gas bag has been repaired and filled with hydrogen, and the engines are in excellent condition. Forty pounds of official mail is stowed aboard, including two gold medals of the Aero Club of America awarded to Capt. Alcock and Lieut. Brown, who flew the Vickers-Vimy biplane overseas from Newfoundland in the first nonstop transatlantic "hop" to the British Isles from North America.

In a statement last night, Major G. H. Scott, commander of the dirigible, declared that he would fly over New York and, if favorable winds on the other side offered, over London on his homeward journey to East Fortune, Scotland.

WANTS ALL IN LEAGUE

Gompers Re-Elected President of Pan-American F. of L. by Unanimous Vote

New York, July 10.—A demand that all the nations of the world be made eligible to the League of Nations was expressed in a resolution nanimously adopted here yesterday at the first annual congress of the Pan-American Federation of Labor by delegates from ten countries, including the United States.

The demand was formulated in an amendment proposed by Samuel Gompers, president of the congress and head of the American Federation of Labor, following a report by the committee on resolutions indorsing the League of Nations.

Under another resolution adopted, Mr. Gompers, who will sail Friday for Europe, to take part in the International Trades Union Congress, is authorized to take what steps he deems advisable to co-operate with labor organizations in European countries.

Objection by the delegate from Ecuador that the resolution was of political character was responded to by Mr. Gompers, who said: "Had the working people of Germany and Austria had the courage an dintelligence to set themselves against the action of their governments we would not have had the war of the past five years."

"NOW LET US HAVE PEACE"

The words at the head of this article were uttered by General Grant to whom the Army of Northern Virginia surrendered in April, 1865. They were spoken at a time when Charles Sumner, Thad Stevens and other radical leaders of the republican party were bent upon imposing the most cruel hardships upon the people of our section. The General also said, "We can all afford to do right."

President Andrew Johnson was disposed to do right towards his southern brethren, but the radical element in Congress held the cold end of the poker for some time, and it was not until the death of the Force Bill that relations between the two sections of the country began to improve. the "bloody shirt" was buried and all began to realize that the civil war was over.

As will be seen elsewhere, the Huns have accepted the peace pact formulated by the allies. Their National Assembly has ratified the treaty by a vote of ayes 208, noes, 115.

The ratification of the treaty does not come as a surprise, in spite of the bitter newspaper and personal comment which preceded the formal action of the German representatives at Versailles. There was nothing else for Germany to do but to sign the treaty and then to ratify it. Hard as she might think its terms, it was clear that failure to acquiesce might make them harder still. Prompt ratification opens the way for immediate raising of the blockade and the restoration of German commercial relations with the outside world.

The treaty itself does not become effective until three of the great Allied powers have ratified it, but special provision was made for lifting the blockade as soon as Germany acted. The treaty has already been submitted to the British, French and Belgian parliaments, and will be laid before the United States Senate today. The Allied Governments are not likely to delay. The Senate of the United States is the only body which threatens to hold up the treaty.

The President appeared at the Capitol at noon today, and at 12:15 submitted the treaty to the Senate, and in open session explained why the treaty and covenant of the league of nations should be ratified.

WHISKY STILL SOARS

A case in the Alexandria Police Court a few days ago showed that whisky is bringing as high as twelve dollars a quart in this city. The price in Baltimore, however, is higher, $3.50 a half pint, being demanded at present.

United States Commissioner Supplee of that city, got his first quotation on the price of war-time prohibition whisky yesterday when a negro was given a hearing on a charge of selling to a soldier. Thomas' rate to the soldier, according to the evidence, was $3.50 a half pint. He was arrested yesterday when policemen said they saw him place a bottle on a stall in Lexington Market to be taken up later by the man in uniform. Thomas bail was set at $500, pending action in the Federal Court.

THE FIENDS STILL AT LARGE.

The attacks upon white women by groes on the environs of Washington is still the chief subject of conversation in the capital city and vicinity. A quarter of a century ago several such crimes were committed by negroes in Alexandria county, and it was suggested at the time that it was a commentary upon our cvilization that such acts were committed in the shadow of the Capitol of the nation.

In one week there were five criminal assaults made on white women by negroes virtually in Washington, and not one offender has been caught.

Females have been warned to keep indoors after dark, unless in the company of men of their families.

More than 100 suspects have been gathered by the police dragnet, but all except three have been released.

Spurred on by the promise of a large reward for the arrest of the assailant, patrolmen and citizens have united in the hunt. Uniformed men and civilians patrol the outlying suburbs, stopping every suspected colored man.

All night long revengeful citizens of Maryand search the patches of woods and negro settlements on their side of the line.

TEACH THEM TRAFFIC RULES.

In these days of improved public schools, when so many suggestions are being made concerning the preservation of the health of little ones, it has been suggested that a close study of traffic rules in this day of motor vehicles might curtail the number of accidents to children. While Alexandria, so far, has had comparatively few serious mishaps caused by automobiles, such are liable to occur at any time.

Adults are often as thoughtless as children in crossing streets while these modern vehicles are moving rapidly in both directions. In Baltimore a few days ago, while a traffic policeman was directing the movements of autos, etc., a man, who was reading a newspaper, walked slowly towards a tide of fast-moving vehicles. The policeman took the thoughtless man in charge and after administering sharp rebuke allowed him to proceed.

"Millions of money and dozens of paid guards and nurses could not insure the safety or prevent the death of Little Vinson McLean, the millionaire's child who ran out into the roadway in Washiigton recently in play, and met death under the wheels of an automobile!

"Carefully protected and watched all his nine years of life, the time came when chance made him the victim of the same type of automobile accident that has taken the lives of hundreds of humbler children. Because Vinson McLean was the millionaire baby of nation wide publicity, the world was shocked by his death—but its real lesson is to every mother heart which is so warned of the ever present menace of traffic to the child of the city.

"A traffic expert has recently made a careful study of street accidents to pedestrians, especialy with reference to children, and as a result of his work he has formulated a set of safety-first rules for the guidance of children whose play or business involves crossing public streets.

"Memorize these rules, then teach them to your children so thoroughly that they cannot be misunderstood or forgotten. It is impossible for any parent to give his personal pedestrians, especially with reference The only safe way is to teach the child to take care of himself—to be aware of the danger and trained to avoid it.

Government's Drive Against Manufacture of 2 3-4 Per Cent Alcohol

Pittsburgh, July 10.—The government's drive against the sale of beer containing "2 3-4 per cent" alcohol was launched here yesterday, when United States Attorney R. L. Crawford filed a suit against the Pittsburgh Brewing Company, one of the city's largest breweries, in the United States district court yesterday, charging as a violation of the war time prohibition law the sale of beer containing more than one-half of one per cent. Eleven officials of the company were named.

Immediately following filing of the suit, United States Judge W. H. S. Thompson issued a writ upon the company to appear in court. Simultaneously, he issued bench warrants for the arest of the officers of the company.

The suit was filed on information furnished by R. B. Spencer, special agent of the Department of Justice, charging that beer sold by the company contained by weight 1.94 per cent alcohol and by volume 2.43 per cent.

FLEET OFF JULY 19

Daniels Will Inspect Naval Base in Hawaii

Washington, July 10.—The newly organized Pacific Fleet will sail from Hampton Roads for the west coast Saturday, July 19. It was announced at the Navy Department yesterday that final arrangements were completed at a conference in New York yesterday between Secretary Daniels and Admiral Hugh Rodmain, commander of the fleet.

Mr. Danels said the fleet would be at San Diego between August 5 and 10. After stopping at Los Angeles, San Francisco and Puget Sound a number of the ships probably will go to Hawaii for a short stay.

Secretary Daniels has not decided definitely that he will accompany the fleet, but if he does not he will meet it at San Diego and make the cruise northward on the Pacific Coast and to Hawaii.

Many of the vessels of the Pacific Fleet are now in Hampton Roads, while the others are at Atlantic coast navy yards, where minor repairs are being completed.

Secretary Daniels said his contem

Secretary Daniels said his contemplated trip to Hawaii was in connection with recommendations which he will make to Congress next fall for extensive improvements at Pearl Harbor, the naval base in Hawaii. Mr. Daniels said the Pacific fleet would be based at Pearl Harbor much of the time and that very extensive improvements would be necessary there in order to care for the armada.

Claremont, N. H., Jul 10.—Clyde Sheppard, a boy of 17 years who says he struck his uncle, Daniel H. Weld, a Cormish farmer, with a club to protect women members of the family, was arrested Tuesday charged with manslaughter after Weld died.

The boy, with his mother and other relatives, had spent the Fourt of July and the week-end at the farm of Weld who brewed a special beer for the holiday. According to Sheppard, the farmer was affected by his brew so that he abused his guests and Sheppard struck him on the head.

EUROPE BARRED TO PRESIDENTS

A bill prohibiting Presidents of the United States from leaving the country during their terms of office was introduced yesterday in the House by Representative Campbell. The bill provides that it shall be unlawful for the President to transact executive business at any place other than Washington.

In connection with this measure, Campbell issued a statement asserting that President Wilson, in his foreign trips, had been "beguiled by artful diplomats and international statesmen by flattery," and that he had "lost his own prestige and that of his country."

The United States is unpopular abroad, because of President Wilson's visits, Campbell's statement asserted. He also attacked the league of nations.

The Good Will of an Army

The written and spoken word of American Army men, at home and abroad, has given the very name of Dodge Brothers Motor Car a new and a stirring significance.

THE VOLUNTEERS OF AMERICA

Under the Leadership if

GENERAL AND MRS. BALLINGTON BOOTH

Dodge Automobile Company,
Detroit, Michigan. May 12, 1919.

Gentlemen:

Several times while traveling through France and Germany I was inspired to exclaim, "I really must write to the Dodge Company, when I get home and tell them what I think of their car". Now, that I am home that intention has not weakened. I have spent the whole of this winter in France and Germany amid the mud and rain and shell torn roads of the battle front, and later over the steep mountains and through the narrow gorges between the Luxenberg and the Rhine.

General Pershing gave me for my use while I served the A. E. F. a Dodge car. With my little company of entertainers I was enabled to go to many of the boys in isolated spots who had no transportation to send for me and would have gone without entertainments had I not had my own car. We traveled hundreds of miles, some times over almost impassible roads. We scaled mountains, where at every minute we feared our little car might balk at further pressure. We never had a moment's trouble. I can say most emphatically that the Dodge gave splendid service and held out where we had found other cars disabled by the road side.

When my service with the Army was through and I had to return the car to them I felt as if I was parting with a personal friend and wished that it could run me down to Brest and be taken aboard the transport and sail for home with me.

From what I have heard from many sources I believe that others have had just as successful experiences with the Dodge at the front as we have had.

Believe me,
Very cordially yours,
(Signed) MAUD B. BOOTH.

"Smoke Virginia-Carolina Straight"

For 300 years Virginia-Carolina tobacco has made good!

From the beginning Virginia-Carolina has been the world's favorite tobacco.

It has been cultivated and improved for three centuries. Today—five times more of it is smoked in cigarettes than all the foreign-grown tobaccos combined. Only the lively taste and rich flavor of Virginia-Carolina tobacco can account for this.

And only in a cigarette made entirely of Virginia-Carolina do you get the full flavor and all of that relish and zest.

Put the proof up to Piedmont.

STOP, LOOK AND READ

Suggestions Concerning Pedestrians in the Automobile Era.

2.—Never walk behind a street car without looking carefully for automobiles or other street cars coming from the other direction. It is much better to walk a little further to the corner before crossing.

3.—When possible always go to the corner where the traffic policeman is on duty. He is your friend.

4.—When more than one child is crossing the street, hold hands tightly, don't run, and don't separate. The driver can miss you if you become confused, providing you stay together but if you separate, one of you is almost sure to be struck.

5.—If a car is standing at the corner or moving slowly some distance away, look the driver in the eye to make sure that he sees you and to learn what he is going to do. Don't look at the front of the car. Look at the driver.

6.—When the streets are slippery, don't take a chance in crossing just because a car is moving slowly.

7.—Don't read letters or books when crossing the street. Don't talk to your friend, but keep your mind on the fact that you are crossing a street where there is danger and you must be alert.

8.—In playing ball or tennis, if the ball goes into the street, don't run after it without stopping first at the curb to make sure that there are no cars approaching.

9.—Cross the street at street corners. In many cities there is a fine for any one crossing between corners. This is called "jay walking."

10—Don't play in the streets and don't roller skate in the streets.

11.—If the road is the only place to walk to school walk on the left side facing the traffic. If you walk on the right side you will be in the path of cars approaching from behind.

12.—Don't "hop on" behind trucks or cars. The greatest danger is in getting off without being able to see in all directions.

KAISER RESPONSIBLE

That will be the burden of Premier Clemenceau's reply to Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, former imperial German chancellor, it was learned semi-officially late today.

The "Tiger," with the approval of the "big five," will convey the same information to Field-Marshal von Hindenburg throught the exchancellor, it is understood. Both begged to be allowed to take the blame for the ex-kaiser's acts, and stand trial in his stead. They will be told that fulfillment of their request is impossible.

Both Hollweg and Hindenburg will be invited, however, to testify at the ex-kaiser's trial. But it will be made clear by the French premier that no immunity can be granted them.

SUPPOSED SUICIDE

London, July 10.—Mrs. Arthur Eliot, better known as Mrs. Mabel Louise Atherton, divorced wife of Col. Thomas Atherton, was found shot yesterday morning in her home in London.

Mrs. Eliot, who was a sister of Sir Aubrey Dean-Paul, some years ago sued Baron-Churston, then John Reginald Yarde-Buller, for breach of promise. The case created a considerable sensation at the time. Last April she married Capt. Arthur Eliot, a dramatist, grandson of the late Earl of St. Germans.

Evidence gathered by the police indicated strongly to them, it was said, that the case was one of suicide. About midnight a shot was heard.

A maid went to Mrs. Eliot's room and found the door locked and barricaded with furniture. An entrance was forced and the body of Mrs. Eliot was found with part of the head blown away. A discharged shotgun was beside the body.

European Speaker of International Distinction Will Discuss Great World Problem At Chautauqua.

An unusual and important feature of this year's Chautauqua program will be a European speaker on some problem affecting America's relations with the Old World. This shows the length to which the Chautauqua Association will go to produce a program which will keep the Chautauqua communities in close touch with the biggest problems of the world.

As this is written Director Pearson is in Europe securing this speaker so that it is impossible to announce either his name or his subject at this time. This much may be said, however, that he will be a man of affairs who has had the experience in the trying problems of War and Reconstruction that will enable him to speak with authority on international affairs.

He will speak on the fourth night of your Chautauqua. A special announcement giving the name of the man and the title of his lecture will be made before your Chautauqua opens. Watch for this notice and plan to hear this notable lecture.

The Overseas Quartette

AT CHAUTAUQUA

Service Men In Musical Treat

Few people realize the part that music has had in the winning of the war. That never-give-in spirit called morale is largely a product of the cheerfulness due to the songs of the men on the march and in camp. And we have all heard these songs sung—but most of us only at second-hand.

The "Overseas Quartette," composed of four young men from the A. E. F., will render a program at Chautauqua that will completely satisfy the longing of the home folks to hear at firsthand the songs of the boys in khaki.

These Yankee soldiers bring us the great world war in music. And the songs they will sing will show us that not all of the war was tragedy. Much of it was fun and good fellowship and so in their program these soldier lads will show us the combination of fun, thrills and tragedy which is modern war. They will portray in song and pantomime the many sides of the life that has made men out of weaklings and heroes out of cowards.

Besides the quartette numbers there are excellent solos and duets. Each member of the company is capable of sustaining his own part in solo work most creditably and these numbers will be one of the very enjoyable features of the program. Their songs cover a wide variety and besides the songs of trench and camp, their selections will also be on the eternally interesting themes of love and peace.

The Chautauqua management presents this company with great confidence because each of the members of the company has had extensive experience in platform work before entering the service and there would be no doubt of the success of the attraction as an ordinary civilian quartette. With their unique experience as a background and the timely songs of trench and camp as the main part of their program, this quartette is bound to be one of the features of the Chautauqua Week in your town.

"Robin Hood"

Famous Opera AT CHAUTAUQUA

MARGARET SMITH—"DAME DURDEN" IN "ROBIN HOOD"

Chautauquans will have no difficulty in recalling the musical headliners of past years on the Chautauqua programs. The light operas, "The Mikado," "The Chimes of Normandy," and "Pinafore" have set a high standard which some may think it will be difficult for his year's offering to equal and impossible to surpass. And yet the Chautauqua management without the least hesitation announces that Reginald DeKoven's opera "Robin Hood" is the greatest success which it has ever had the pleasure of offering for the approval of the towns on its circuits.

Not only was "Robin Hood" the first musical attempt at legitimate opera comique by American authors, but of all the light musical works born on this continent since its production twenty-six years ago, it is the one most worthy of revival. At Chautauqua this beautiful and tuneful opera will be produced by a full cast chorus and orchestra. This company will consist of thirty-five members, each an individual artist in his part and chosen because of his ability to interpret his special role.

The artistic effect will be greatly heightened by the special costuming and elaborate scenery which is carried to give the special setting necessary for this production.

One of the features of "Robin Hood" which never fails to delight the audiences is the unusual collection of well-known songs which are contained in the score. Some of the most popular hits, among which are no doubt some of your own personal favorites, are these:

Songs From "Robin Hood"

"Then Hey! For the Merry Greenwood."	"Ho! Ho! Then for Jollity."
"Brown October Ale."	"Ye Birds in Azure Winging."
"Come Dream So Bright."	"Armorer's Song."
"Tinkers' Chorus."	"A Hunting We Will Go."
"Oh, Promise Me."	"Ah! I Do Love Thee."
"Come Away to the Woods."	"Sweetheart, My Own."
	"Love, We Never More Will Part."

But tuneful music, elaborate costumes and scenery and popular song hits would not make "Robin Hood" a success if it were not for the fact that the Chautauqua management has secured a cast capable of making the most of their opportunities.

These well-known artists will play the leading roles in "Robin Hood": James Stevens, Walter C. Wilson, Margaret Smith, Joseph Florian, Edward Beck and Henry Taylor. All have had operatic experience in big operas in the large cities and will render their parts in a highly professional manner.

GLOOM IN HAMBURG

Mail from Hamburg passing through the American censorship indicates a gloomy condition of affairs there, socially and economically.

According to letters from individuals writing to relatives or friends in the American occupied area, since all the navigation companies had to surrender their ships to the Entente, there have been 50,000 to 70,000 men walking the streets in search of work.

FOOD RIOTS IN ITALY

Cavalry Patrols Streets of Rome and Disperses Crowds Bent on Looting

Most of the stores were closed and the authorities announced they would use the utmost force to reopen them. Under a new ordinance, penalties ranging from 500 to 5,000 francs in fines and imprisonment of from 1 to 30 months will be imposed on traders who refuse to keep their stores open during the prescribed hours.

Government representatives received a delegation from the Chamber of Labor today and promised a reduction in prices, but refused to authorize the chamber to supervise the enforcement of the laws. The delegation reserved its decision with regard to a general strike until later. Premier Nitti appointed a committee of six unionists to prepare a new price list.

Conditions at Naples have quieted today, with troops bivouacing in the streets.

At Genoa traders were selling at 50 per cent reduction. The few stores that refused to open were looted.

At Turin the municipality has requisitioned all goods.

Order has been re-established in Florence and throughout the province.

Nearly 300 Deputies had arrived here today to hear Premier Nitti's statement before Parliament dealing chiefly with the internal situation.

AMENDMENTS TO BILL

Bone-Dry Leaders Would Search Private Residences for Liquor

Amendments to the prohibition enforcement bill now pending before the House will be offered by the bone-dry leaders to provide for the search of private residences for liquor and the seizure of such web goods as may be discovered. This fact became known this week while the House was debating the enforcement legislation.

The same measure was brought out in the House Judiciary Committee but was voted down decisively by those who realized that it would raise a veritable storm throughout the country; that it would weigh the enforcement bill down with a load that might defeat the whole program, and that even if it should pass the House and Senate it would doubtless be unconstitutional.

But the fact developed today that the uncompromisers have decided to make a furious drive against the ownership or consumption of private stocks; that they are willing to assume all the risks inuvolved, and that they beleve that once a search and seizure measure is brought out into the open it will be possible to drag a majority upon the floor to vote for it.

NEW'S STORY BORNE

Report Shows Girl Slain Was to Become Mother—Murder in First Degree Charged

Los Angeles, Cal., July 10.—The story of Harry S. New, Jr., that he shot his fiance because she refused to give birth to his child, was borne out by an announcement at the inquest here that girl would have become a mother.

New was held by the coroner's jury as slayer of the girl. A charge of first degree murder was made against him.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 10.—The question is being asked here whether the secret of the hidden past relative to the birth of Harry S. New, self confessed slayer of his beautiful California sweetheart, Frieda Lesser, had a direct bearing on the sensational tragedy.

Did young New become enraged following her refusal to marry him after he told her of the cloud which surrounded his name and result in the murder.

The new angle developed following an interview with John W. Claypool, attorney for many years for Mrs. Lulu Burger, mother of the man charged with the murder. He handled the case between United States Senator Harry S. New and his client.

REVENUE JUMPS $10,000,000

Richmond, Va., July 10.—An increase of $10,000,000 in the revenue collections in the eastern Virginia district is announced by Collector R. C. L. Moncure.

The total collected was $31,957,325.35, of which $14,128,358.88 came directly from the operation of the Federal income law. Collections also show increased taxable property. Six years ago, when Moncure became collector, the total collected during the first year was $6,000,000.

INVENTOR DIES AT 92

Refused to Patent Cutter Which It Is Thought, Would Have Gained Him Millions

Kennett Square, Pa., July 10.—David W. Entriken, 92 years old, inventor and manufacturer of the first mowing machine used in this country or Europe is dead at his home here.

Mr. Entriken retired two years ago from the business he had made. As a young man he learned the machinist's trade and opened a shop in West Chester his native town. At that time there was no practical mowing machine on the market so his neighbors turned to the young machanic to give them one. The "sweep" mower then in use with its huge revolving scythe-like blades required an enormous amount of power to operate.

Within two weeks Mr. Entriken had invented the cutter-bar, cog- driven mower with saw knives which from that day to this has served all agriculturists of the world both for garnering hay and wheat. He refused to patent the machine, and instead of receiving millions for invention he took only pay for the first mower and a few that followed from his own shop. He wished the invention to be a gift to farmers of the world. He retired shortly after to his big Chester county farm.

Busines smen say that had he taken the advice of friends and patented the machine he would have been worth $40,000,000 within 20 years.

Those closest to him declare, however, that Mr. Entriken never regretted the gift to farmers of the world. Although he leaves ample competency he worked until two years ago.

VIRGINIA WHEAT IN DANGER

Washington, July 10.—Appearance of plant diseases in the grain crops of Indiana, Illinois, Virginia, West Virginia and Georgia has resulted in the issuance of a call for a meeting at the Department of Agriculture on July 15 to consider the advisability of prohibiting or restricting the movement of wheat, oats and other small grain from those States.

A statement by the Federal Horticultural Board today said flag-smuts existed in the wheat fields of Illinois and flag-smut and the "take-all" disease in Indiana. The eel worm, which affects wheat, oats, rye and spelt, is prevalent in Virginia, West Virginia and Georgia.

CHAUTAUQUA AND RECONSTRUCTION

OUT OF THE CHAOS OF WAR COMES THE WORLD OF 1919. It is rich in new possibilities, but also full of new responsibilities. The realization of the possibilities, within the grasp of men and women everywhere because of the triumph of the forces of right, depends entirely upon how the responsibilities are met.

It is the great task and privilege of Chautauqua to throw its powerful forces into the struggle of meeting these responsibilities in the best way. The Chautauqua platform, the freest forum in the land, is open for the discussing of the world's great problems. The Chautauqua spirit will create that community interest which banishes individual selfishness.

During the war Chautauqua proved itself of inestimable value in maintaining the nation's morale. President Wilson called it "an integral part of the national defense." And now, during the Reconstruction period, Chautauqua has a unique opportunity for service. It will turn itself wholeheartedly to its new task with that effectiveness which made it so valuable during the war.

JAP-HUN PACT ALLEGED

Far Eastern Bureau Makes Public Text of Supposed Treaty

New York, July 10.—The Far Eastern Bureau made public last night what is alleged to be the complete text of the rumored German Japanese alliance, said to have been signed in October, 1918, while the two countries were still at war. Dr. Jeremiah Jenks, former American advisor to the Chinese Government in Peking, is head of the Far Eastern Bureau, which has for its object the presentation of China's problems to the American public.

The alleged treaty, details of which Senator Lodge is seeking to secure from President Wilson, makes remarkable disclosures, which, if true, show that Japan promised, among other things to protect Germany's interests at the Peace Conference and to conclude a secret military alliance against "aggressive intentions of America and England."

In making the text of the alleged treaty public, the Far Eastern Bureau states that the text was secured by a representative of the Soviet Republic in Berlin following the German revolution; the Bolshevist Ambassador telegraphed it to Russia and that a copy was found among the Bolshevist archives at Perm, Siberia, following the capture of that place by anti-Bolshevist forces February 2, 1919.

According to the Far Eastern bureau, knowledge of the alleged transaction came from the Chinese Government, which cabled its contents to the Paris Peace Conference.

The pact is said to have been negotiated in its preliminaries at Stockholm between an obsecure official named Oda, acting for Japan and Lutzius, acting for Germany. Conversations were begun, it is said, the latter part of October, 1918, and an agreement in principle having been reached, "the final draft was made in Berlin."

SOFT DRINKS TO GO UP

Even Coffee, Tea and Milk Will Feel Effect And Go Up In Cost

New York, July 10.—The optimist who predicted that prohibition with all its faults would at least help to reduce the high cost of drinking had better begin to modify his views. Early reports from soft drink sources seem to indicate that the tendency is going to be just the other way. In fact, about the only soft drink that is not expected to cost more is plain water—and with an ice famine hovering in the offing, there is no telling how long before even a glass of water with a piece of cracked ice in it will have to be rated at a fancy figure.

Signs that the dry cloud lacks even the silver lining of economy accumulate, like thirst itself, with each succeeding day of drought. Within the past few days it has become increasingly difficult to buy a box of raspberries or strawberries at almost any market in town. Stalls that ordinarily teem with these products at this time of year have had none to offer, and what few there were sold for such prices that the average pocketbook shuddered at the thought. And yet early reports from out-of-town had it that this was going to be a good berry year.

It is a good berry year. As fast as they can ripen and be picked the berries are all being bought up by soft drink manufacturers, who need them in their large and growing business. So great is the demand for these berries that manufacturers are said to be willing to pay almost any price for them and the growers can't begin to turn 'em out fast enough.

INHERITS A FORTUNE

New York, July 10.—Floretta Whaley Cooke, who eloped twelve years ago with the Rev. Jere Knode Cooke, causing his unfrocking as a minister, today became heiress to $100,000 through the death of her grandmother, with whom the sum had been left in trust by her father.

Cooke took to sign painting in a struggle to support himself and the girl with whom he eloped. He married her after being divorced by his former wife. They have two children.

To Our Patrons

Alexandria, Va., June 2, 1919.

In line with our progressive banking methods, and to meet the demands of our patrons, we are installing on July 1st, an up-to-date Safe Deposit Department, under the personal supervision of one of our officers.

This has been made necessary from the fact that a large number of our depositors owning Liberty Bonds and other securities desire a safe place for their keeping.

It is our plan to enlarge the number of Safe Deposit Boxes, and make a rental charge to meet the operating expenses of this Department. This charge will become effective July 1st, 1919, and a bill will be sent out at that time to the holders of boxes, and if any desire to make any change we will be glad to have them call before the bills are rendered for the ensuing year.
